CapitalVision® Version 9.03 Supports ARRA and is now Available for Order

Orlando, FL - April 27th, 2009 — The Solution Design Group, Inc. (SDG) is pleased to announce that it is now accepting orders for the latest release of CapitalVision® (Version 9.03). CapitalVision®, available as a subscription based service or as an enterprise license, provides government, airports, non-profits, and other organizations with capital improvement programs, with the ability to manage the very complex relationships between funding sources; such as grants, bonds, user fees, etc.; and the related projects, assets, and associated contracts. Version 9.03 also supports the reporting needed under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA).

"We are particularly excited about the benefits that CapitalVision® can bring to our partners in this challenging financial environment," stated Steven Peacock, SDG's Vice President and Chief Technology Officer.

"Accountability and transparency have become increasingly important in ensuring that scarce funds are being spent wisely. We are very pleased that CapitalVision® can greatly assist our customers in tracking expenditures directly to funding sources," added SDG President and CEO, Tom Strange.

Because CapitalVision® is available as a subscription service; the cost is very affordable. SDG takes care of all the hardware, operating system, database licenses, and other requirements. The only requirement at the customer site is a desktop computer with a browser and a connection to the Internet.

CapitalVision® allows financial and construction managers to carefully track capital projects and funding sources in a very accurate and timely manner. The system produces "on demand" management reports that provide up to date information on funding source levels, year to date capital expenditures by project and funding source, and the information that is needed for quarterly grant reporting to federal and state governments. Additionally, the system allows management to be "proactive" in managing capital programs through the use of "alerts" that notify managers of specific events that may require attention such as change orders that exceed a certain threshold, upcoming funding application dates, and any other type of event that may be related to a funding source, project, or contract.

Version 9.03 of CapitalVision® contains many new features, including:

- The ability to group one or more projects into specific "programs"
- A new interactive reporting tool allowing users to customize and configure the CapitalVision® reports
- Detailed reporting of expenditures by funding source supporting ARRA reporting requirements
- The ability to "transfer" expenditures from one funding source to another and retain all expenditure details
- Expanded alerting capability
- Automatic allocation of owner furnished expense items across selected projects
- Greater functionality in funding draw allocations based on percentages

CapitalVision® is available directly from SDG or through the GSA Schedule 70.
