Charleston County Aviation Authority Implementing CapitalVision®

Charleston, SC November 1, 2009 — The Solution Design Group, Inc. (SDG) announced today that its CapitalVision® software subscription service, used by airport managers and consultants to manage capital programs for airports, is currently being implemented for the Charleston County Aviation Authority (CCAA) at Charleston International Airport.

"We are extremely pleased to add CCAA to our growing list of airport clients," stated Tom Strange, President and CEO of SDG. "Charleston is a very dynamic facility and given that Boeing just announced that the second 787 assembly facility will be at CHS, we are pleased that CapitalVision will be part of the CIP management program."

CapitalVision®, which is available on a subscription basis or in an enterprise version, is a unique software solution that manages the relationships between capital program funding sources, projects, assets and associated contracts. It is designed specifically to allow the owner or operator to have immediate access to project expenditures on a funding source by funding source basis. It bridges the gap between the typical project management systems and financial accounting and ERP systems and provides the reports needed by funding providers such as the FAA.

The Charleston County Aviation Authority, CCAA, owns and operates the Charleston International Airport, Charleston Executive Airport (Johns Island), and the East Cooper Airport. Chartered in 1970 by the State of South Carolina, it is responsible for managing, operating, and developing all public airports in the District, maintaining an adequate level of air service for its citizens; and supervising the financial operations of the District. The Authority coordinates its activities with the Federal Aviation Administration and the South Carolina Aeronautics Commission.
